

VISION AND STRATEGY FOR R+D+i

Kitz Corporation of Europe, investment in R+D+i as an essential activity to meet the constant demand for new technologies and products.

With this conviction, the organization develops these activities within a management system of R+D+i according to UNE 166002:2021 and based on the policy I+D+i, established by DG and based on the following principles:

VISION

Be referring internationally, to introduce new products with high added value (custom product), high efficiency and short delivery times, to be more competitive in the market.

By increasing our corporate value, we want to help create a more prosperous and successful society, providing many types of benefits to our customers, employees, business partners and society.

STRATEGIC GUIDELINES

- Develop a continued dedication to improve the quality and product development, with levels of incremental and continuous innovation.
- Continue the path of technological innovation implemented in KCE.
- Evaluate customer confidence as a strong point, since only then is able to maintain a durable and satisfactory for all commercial relationship.

Following its strategic lines:

- Development of new products with high added value (special services valves).
- Increased productivity and flexibility of the productive capacities.
- Increased capacity for R &D of new products.

This policy is communicated and understood within the organization and reviewed annually for continuing suitability.

Barcelona, Sep 27, 2022

Toni Gonzalez
RDi Director